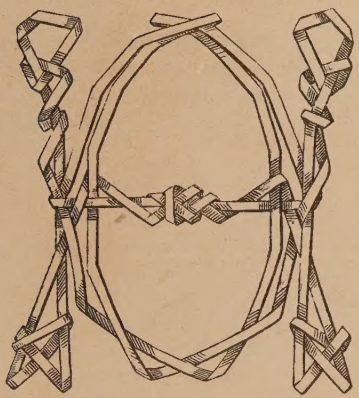
Ophthalmic Hospital Reports

AND JOURNAL OF THE

ROYAL LONDON OPHTHALMIC HOSPITAL.

1879.



VOLUME NINE.—PRICE FOURTEEN SHILLINGS.

LONDON:

J. & A. CHURCHILL, NEW BURLINGTON STREET.

HARRISON AND SONS,
PRINTERS IN ORDINARY TO HER MAJESTY,
ST. MARTIN'S LANE.

CONTENTS

OF

THE NINTH VOLUME.

PART I.

ORIGINAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

PAGE

1. JONATHAN HUTCHINSON, On the Influence of the Sexual System on Diseases of the Eye 1
2. J. HIRSCHBERG, Historical Notice concerning the Doctrine of the Smallest Visual Angle 16
3. PRIESTLEY SMITH, Bilateral Deviations of the Eyes 22
4. FREDERICK MASON, Case of Cyst in the Anterior Chamber 35
5. A. STANFORD MORTON, Two Cases of Air-Bubbles in the Vitreous following Perforating Wounds 38
6. EDWARD NETTLESHIP, The After-History of Fifteen Cases of Malignant Disease of the Eye 40
7. Hospital Cases, reported by A. STANFORD MORTON 50
8. W. A. BRAILEY, Curator's Pathological Report 55

PERISCOPE.

Operations for Traumatic Colobomata of the Eyelids—Anthrax of Lower Eyelid—Cysticercus Cellulosæ of the Upper Eyelid—An Epidemic of Conjunctival Blenorrhœa—Transplantation of Conjunctiva—Lupus of Conjunctiva—Congenital Strabismus—Operation for Strabismus—Buphthalmus Congenitus—The Influence of Opacities on the Cornea in producing Strabismus—Congenital, almost complete, Staphyloma of the Cornea—Neuro-Paralytic Keratitis—Case of Sclerosing Keratitis—Experiments on Keratitis from Inoculation—Investigations on Keratitis—Pterygium—A Method of Fixing a Thread to a Needle—Iridotomy or Iritomy—Primary Sarcoma of the Iris cured by Excision of the Tumour—Death after Iridectomy—The Diseases which accompany Iritis, or are secondary to it, &c., &c. 86

PART II.

ORIGINAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

1. JONATHAN HUTCHINSON, Clinical Groups of Cases of Amaurosis .. 111
2. J. E. ADAMS, Miscellaneous Cases 131

PAGE

3. Stephen Mackenzie, A Case of Glycosuric Retinitis, with Post-Mortem Examination and Comments 134
4. Frederick Mason, Cases of Foreign Body in the Eye..... 158
5. Edward Nettleship, Cilio-Retinal Blood-Vessels (Additional Cases and Remarks) 161
6. Edward Nettleship, Clinical Notes and Cases..... 168
7. W. A. Brailey, On the Pathology of Increased Tension of the Globe..... 199
8. W. A. Brailey, Report on Two Cases of Rare Tumour of the Eye . 229
9. R. Marcus Gunn, Notes of Hospital In-Patients 234

PERISCOPE.

Buphthalmos—Congenital Microphthalmos—Operations on the Vitreous—Anophthalmos, with Congenital Cysts of the Lower Eyelids Simulating Ectopia of the Eyes—Congenital Absence of Iris with Excavation of the Optic Nerve—A Case of Malformation, Irideremia, &c.—Irideremia in One Eye in Hydrophthalmus Congenitus—Dermoid of the Caruncle—Microphthalmos, with Congenital Serous Cysts beneath the Lower Lids—Anophthalmos, with Congenital Cystic Formation in the Lower Lids—Anophthalmos Congenitus—Herpes Iris Conjunctivæ—Fragment of Percussion Cap in the Interior of an Eye for 24 Years—New Method of performing Plastic Operations—Transplantation of Conjunctiva of Rabbit in Symblepharon, &c., &c. 247

Part III.

ORIGINAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

1. Jonathan Hutchinson, Clinical Groups of Cases of Amaurosis—(concluded) 275
2. J. Crawford Renton, Enucleation for Sympathetic Ophthalmia 342
3. E. Landolt, On Myopia 345
4. J. Hirschberg, On Refraction Ophthalmoscopes 355
5. Simeon Snell, Foreign Body (Piece of Steel) Embedded Close to Optic Disc, with Retention of Perfect Sight 370
6. A. Stanford Morton, Operations for Senile Cataract at the Moorfields Hospital during Eleven Months..... 374
7. W. A. Brailey, A Further Contribution to the Pathology of Increased Tension..... 379
8. Priestley Smith, Bilateral Deviations of the Eyes..... 428
9. A. Stanford Morton, Congenital Displacement of both Lenses, occurring in several Members of One Family 435

Catalogue of the Diagrams presented to Moorfields Hospital by Mr. Hulke..... 440

Index 443